

SEVEN WITNESSES CHANGED OR RECANTED THEIR TESTIMONY • THERE IS NO FORENSIC EVIDENCE ONE WITNESS MAY HAVE BEEN INVOLVED WITH THE CRIME

A large crowd of people is shown from a high angle, many holding up white rectangular portraits of a man with glasses and a beard. The portraits are arranged in a grid-like pattern across the crowd. The background is dark and out of focus, suggesting an outdoor or large indoor gathering.

Georgia's capital punishment system is broken.

Significant racial and socio-economic bias, arbitrariness, and human error plague the capital punishment system. Over 130 death row prisoners have been exonerated since 1976, five of them from Georgia. This costly system fails to deter murder and wastes funds that could be used better for crime prevention and enforcement.
